Ship Headed by Local Man Returns to Sea

USS Nelson Returns to Action After Repairs of Damage Done by Torpedo—Exploits in Invasion of France Recalled—Was in Charge of Comdr. McGrath of Mott Street

The sturdy destroyer USS NELSON, veteran of two of the world's greatest amphibious operations and long service in the submarine-infested waters of the Atlantic, has been fully repaired at Boston Navy Yard and returned to sea to help avenge the lives of 24 of her crew who died when an enemy torpedo blasted away the ship's stern in the early morning of D-plus-6 day off the Normandy beachhead, the Navy disclosed Wednesday.

Commanding officer of the NELSON is Comdr. Thomas D. McGrath, USN, formerly of Decatur, Ill., but now of 31 Mott st., East Arlington, where his wife, Corrine Lawson McGrath, makes her home.

Seasoned by her service in the Italian campaign, and because her fire-power was needed to screen other invasion craft, the NELSON participated in the historic operation despite the fact that one of her two propellers had been fouled shortly before leaving England and was not usable. All went well during the first days of that perfectly-planned and executed crossing of the English Channel by the wave of the enormous invasion fleet of which the NELSON was a part.

It was not until the early hours of the morning of June 10 that she was hit by a torpedo.

Benefit Party Will Help War Service Work

Through the efforts of the War Service Committee of the Arlington Catholic Woman's Club of which Mrs. John W. Deasy, V. P. is chairman, and Mrs. John J. McGrath, co-chairman, a great deal has been accomplished during the past few months. For many weeks this Committee has met every Thursday afternoon to make by hand a cord type of rosary which withstands all kinds of climatic conditions for the servicemen in all parts of the world. On Christmas day each boy or serviceman received a Rosary accompanied by a cheerful Christmas card reminding him that those at home had not forgotten him.

To continue their work it is necessary to raise funds and this will be done in the form of a bridge and whist party Saturday afternoon, Jan. 13 at two o'clock in Legion Hall. In addition to the card party a cake and food sale will also be held. Donations of prizes, cakes, pies and food of all kinds will be appreciated by the chairman and committee.

Citizens' Group to Further Camp Fire Girls' Program Here

On Friday morning, a group of prominent Arlington citizens met in the directors' room of the Menotomy Trust Company to formulate plans for the organization of a local committee to further the program of the Camp Fire Girls in this community.

The growth of the organization in Arlington, and the importance of this character-building program as a contributing factor in community life brought about this history-making event.

Mrs. Stanley R. Kingman has accepted the chairmanship of this local committee of 25 men and women for three months. Mrs. M. Norcross Stratton was appointed secretary for the same period. The full election of officers will be held in April to coincide with the annual meeting and election of officers of the Council for Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls, of which the Arlington organization is an important district.

Miss Ethel M. Holbrook, Camp Fire Girls National Field Secretary for New England, spoke on the plan of organization and the functions of the committee, and emphasized the home-centered, good habit forming phases of the Camp Fire program with its opportunities for the development of the creative and imaginative abilities of the individual girl.

Resolution Adopted

The following resolution, expressing the purpose of the new committee, was unanimously passed: "It is the intent of this meeting that this committee be organized to sponsor and promote the Camp Fire program for all girls in Arlington. It shall be known as the Arlington Camp Fire Girls Executive Committee."

Mrs. Clifford S. Brittain, at present the Arlington representative on the Greater Boston Council, was elected extension chairman, and was highly commended for the outstanding work accomplished during the past two years.

Lester W. Dearborn, president of the Greater Boston Council, congratulated the committee on its record of growth, and pledged the full cooperation of the Council and headquarters staff. Miss Sylvia E. Kooser, field secretary for Greater Boston, described the three-fold program, pointing out that the activities are planned for girls from 7 to 18 years of age. Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, and Horizon Clubs.

Mr. Bailey is now serving as acting treasurer and collector while Mr. Anderson is serving with the armed forces.

Rev. Robert M. Hatch to Become Dean of Cathedral in Delaware—Rev. Laurence L. Barber to Remain as Minister of Orthodox Congregational Church Until Next October—Discloses Bequest to Church

The resignation of two Arlington ministers, both of them well known, was announced this week. They are: Rev. Robert McConnell Hatch and Rev. Laurence L. Barber.

Rev. Mr. Hatch, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, has accepted a call to serve as Dean of St. John's Cathedral in Wilmington, Delaware. He will begin his new work in March. His last Sunday at St. John's Church will be on Feb. 25, when he will present a class for Confirmation.

Mr. Hatch came to St. John's Church in September, 1941, after serving for two years as curate at Trinity Church, Boston. He graduated from St. Mark's School in 1929, from Harvard in 1933, and from the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, in 1939. During his years as rector of St. John's Church he has been active in diocesan work, serving as chairman of the Youth Department and as a member of other departments. He has been president of the Arlington Ministers' Association since last June.

He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. William H. P. Hatch of Cambridge, and his wife, the former Helen Crocker Addison, is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James Thayer Addison of New York City.

In announcing his decision, Rev. Mr. Hatch said that he had considered the call in terms of the work of the Church as a whole. He decided to accept the call "because the Cathedral in Wilmington represents a tremendous need and challenge." He added: "Mrs. Hatch and I have been supremely happy in serving St. John's Church. As long as we live, this parish and all its

Medford Tops AHS

After a scoreless battle right up to the last minute of play, Arlington High's hockey sextet was beaten by Medford, 1 to 0, to give the Medford team leadership of the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey league, at the Boston Arena last Saturday afternoon.

The result placed Arlington in a tie for fifth place.

The Medford goal came via a faceoff in the Arlington zone with Charlie McNair, Medford center passing the disk to Bill Sullivan who slammed it to Whalen in front of the net. From a point 10 feet out, Whalen drove the puck into the strings.

Arlington was handicapped by the loss of Hugh Gleason, defenseman, who joined the Navy a few hours before the game, and by penalties. Despite this, they held fast against a stronger and faster Medford sextet. Unable to get into scoring position, Arlington nevertheless kept Medford guessing right up to the last minute when the Mystics finally came through with the lone goal.

The summary:
MEDFORD — Brady, g; Templeton, rd; Sullivan, ld; McNair, c; Whalen, rw; Brennan, lw; spares, Palladino, Dibiase, Rennie.
ARLINGTON — Wells, g; McLeman, rd; Downing, ld; Coveney, c; MacCutcheon, rw; Sennott, lw; spares, Fife, Donahue, Collins, Hardin, Mason, Reycoff.
Medford 0 0 1 1
Goals, Third Period — Whalen (Sullivan), 9:59.

GETTING DEMOCRACY OUT OF THE PARLOR

If our democracy is to make itself effective among the nations of the world, the individual American citizen, the citizen who is a unit of the world, the individual American citizen, the citizen who is a unit of the group known as "The People of the United States of America" must speak out.

We are too likely to avoid our responsibilities by leaving affairs of our country's policy to "the experts" when in our hearts we know that we ourselves are the real policy makers and it is our duty to say what we want. The Dumbarton Oaks agreement was a trial balloon — a pretty good one. It has certain faults, though, which can and will be corrected if we, the people, say that we want them corrected. If we accept the benefits of living in a democracy we are bound to inform ourselves on problems of public interest to form opinions, and to express them.

The people of the United States have at this moment much more power than they realize. Their navy is the greatest in the world, their army a tremendous force. The weight of our opinion is well-nigh irresistible if we act to make it felt. If we wish a world-at-peace after this world-at-war it is up to us to speak plainly for sensible world-organization. It is necessary that both our enemies and our friends know where we stand.

NURSES TO CARE FOR WAR INJURED

"I will release a nurse to care for sick and wounded service men," is a resolution every citizen should make this New Year's, according to Mrs. Dorothy Hayward, R.N., Consultant of the Greater Boston Nursing Council for War Service.

The German drive has caused heavy casualties which will be reflected in an additional drain on nursing facilities.

Everyone can help in some way. Every woman who learns home nursing may relieve hospital pressures, and the woman who looks after the children of a married nurse makes it possible for her in turn to release a hospital nurse for military service.

The National Nursing Council for War Service, suggests the following 10 methods of helping the critical shortage of nurses, both at home and on the warfront:

1. Keep well.
2. Learn how to care for members of your own family at home, by taking a Red Cross Home Nursing Course.
3. Volunteer for hospital service as a Red Cross nurse's aide or an orderly.
4. Become a U. S. Cadet Nurse if you are eligible, or recruit one.
5. Ask graduate nurses, in the hospital or elsewhere, only for necessary service which no one else is equipped to give you.
6. Release your special nurse as soon as your doctor says you no longer need her.
7. Ask your local visiting nurse association or nurse's registry for nursing service at home on an hourly basis when needed.
8. Save the nurses' time when you visit a friend at the hospital. Be considerate about visiting hours and extra tasks.
9. Appeal to every nurse and every former nurse you know, who is not in an essential nursing position to accept one, and help her to make whatever personal adjustments are necessary.
10. Encourage every nurse you know who has been classified as "available for military service" to apply at once to the American Red Cross or the Surgeon General of the Army or Navy.

Meanwhile an urgent appeal for nurses for the armed services was issued this week by Miss Mary E. G. Bliss, R.N., chairman of the Massachusetts Committee for Nurses, Procurement and Assignment Service of the War Manpower Commission. Massachusetts has been given a quota of 969 nurses as its share of the 10,000 total needed immediately by the armed services. This figure of 969 is larger than the total obtained in the entire year of 1944. Hospital ships are returning to this country with no nurses in attendance, the need being so great for our nurses in the hospitals closer to the fighting fronts. Our men who are fighting so valiantly on the battlefronts throughout the world are receiving the finest medical care in the world, but all the science and medical techniques will be of little avail unless these men can be given sufficient nursing.

Nurses wishing to enter the armed services who have been classified I-A, or who are now temporarily deferred, should report to their Red Cross recruiting station or to the First Service Command Headquarters, 808 Commonwealth Ave., Boston.

The seriousness of the situation cannot be overemphasized. MORE nurses are needed.

LET'S KEEP SCRAPPING

Paper burned is paper lost — forever — but paper which flows into the salvage bin can be used over and over again for the war and essential civilian economy. That is the message being relayed to every community in Massachusetts from the War Production Board's salvage division.

"The way to have, is to save," B. G. Waters, executive secretary of the state salvage committee said this week. Old newspapers are made into new papers; old cartons into new paperboard and boxes, and torn Christmas wrappings and New Year's greeting cards can be fashioned into new kraft and into packaging for food, ammunition and medical supplies for our men and women in the armed forces.

The paper shortage is truly acute. Let's keep scrapping, and so keep wrapping our waste paper bundles for salvage!

The NEWS OBSERVES

Births, marriages and deaths fell off somewhat last year in Arlington, records filed thus far at the office of Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder show. The year 1943 showed 881 births in Arlington while only 702 have been recorded thus far for 1944. Marriages totaled 428 in 1943 and 403 last year. Deaths in 1943 numbered 545 and for the year just ended, 518. The 1944 figures are not final, however, since out-of-town records generally arrive here after the first of the year.

Those strange phrases you heard on New Year's Eve and New Year's Day came from motorists who were in the midst of removing, or trying to remove, their old registration plates from their cars. With extra rusted nuts and bolts still dangling from his car, John Q. Public — with a certain sense of satisfaction — attached the shiny new plate to his car. . . Here, at last, was something new to sport even though the old car is just about falling apart.

After this week's struggle to attach one new plate, no one will beg for a second plate. A windshield sticker, to add to the collection already adorning the windshield, would do just as well. However, the idea of issuing only one plate for the sake of saving tin while vendors were allowed to sell TIN horns on New Year's Eve at atrocious prices is just more hokum. Where did the tin horns come from? Everyone wants to get the war over with as fast as possible and is willing to make any sacrifice to that end—if it is necessary—but artificially-created shortages and similar schemes just for the sake of ballyhoo are just so much bunk.

Returns from the 1944 sale of Christmas Seals in Arlington are still coming in, Miss Winifred Connell, treasurer of the Arlington Seal Sale Committee, reported yesterday. The response to the Seal sale this year was very encouraging, but all returns have not been made yet. Every contribution strengthens the program of education, case-finding, and rehabilitation which are carried on to aid in the prevention and control of tuberculosis. It is hoped that those who have not yet sent in their contributions will do so soon, as this money can still be counted with the 1944 Seal sale returns.

"In spite of wartime food shortages, crowded housing, overwork and worry, communicable diseases in Massachusetts have not become a more serious problem than in peacetime," Dr. Vlado A. Getting, state commissioner of public health announced yesterday.

In fact, the general prevalence of communicable diseases during 1944 dropped below the 100,000 mark as compared to 138,000 cases in 1943 and 115,000 cases in 1942. Although several diseases increased, control measures kept most of these from assuming epidemic proportions. Although colds have been extremely prevalent, they have not led toward serious waves of pneumonia which usually result.

Determined to do their bit to help a needy family at Christmas time, three little East Arlington girls took up a collection of food, money and clothing for the worthy family. Instead of enough for one Christmas basket, they got enough for two large ones and a small one. One was delivered in Dorchester and two in Arlington. Some people disbelieved that such a thing as a poor family existed; others donated readily.

This week, the NEWS received a letter from an adult thanking all who helped the trio with their project. Their donations were duly delivered to three very thankful families to whom real Christmas cheer was brought. The writer purposely omitted the girls' names, declaring that they sought no publicity and did their work out of the kindness of their hearts.

Boy Scout Notes

Troop Five

The annual Christmas party of Troop 5 Mothers' Auxiliary was held at the Luke Sorrento Villa, 69 Edmund road. Twenty-five auxiliary members with their husbands went in uniform or costume. Polkeman, circus performers, "Susy Q", Knute Rockne, farmers, cowgirls, kings, and bobby sock girls with many other impersonations filled the Pompeii Room with merriment. Mr. Sorrento gave a most interesting talk on his antique pieces of many periods and from many lands, among which were two suits of armor, one Russian and one German. A buffet supper prepared by Mrs. Sorrento and her daughter, Rachel, was served by the committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph Gerbrands.

For the Scouts the Christmas party came on Thursday evening at the Junior High West gym. Refreshments, gifts and games marked the evening as one of genuine enjoyment.

Troop 10 Notes

At the combined Christmas and New Year's party given by Troop 10 Boy Scouts last Friday, Troops 3 and 16 of the Girl Scouts of America and many Girl Scout Wings were guests.

The general program was directed by Chester Johnson, junior assistant scoutmaster. Robert Patton was in charge of the refreshments and Robert Joyce in charge of the entertainment. Movies were shown by the scoutmaster. Three Girl Scout leaders also attended.

GOV. MAURICE J. TOBIN—Former mayor of Boston who, at the age of 48, became chief executive of Massachusetts yesterday. In the presence of an audience which taxed the House chamber to capacity, Governor Tobin took the oath of office from Senate president Arthur W. Coolidge of Reading. Following tradition, Gov. Saltonstall who will be sworn in as United States Senator next Monday, took the last lone walk down the front steps of the State House.

Town Represented at Inauguration of Governor Tobin

Arlington was represented yesterday at inauguration ceremonies at the State House when Gov. Maurice J. Tobin took the oath of office, succeeding Gov. Saltonstall. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Geagan, Lawrence E. Corcoran, Henry E. Keenan, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barry and P. Joseph McManus.

Gov. Tobin in his inaugural message called for sweeping reforms in Massachusetts' "archaic and unsound tax system," pleaded for subordination of all problems to whatever contributes to the prosecution of the war, and suggested a review of the horse and dog track situation. "Persons connected with race tracks have concerned themselves unduly in state affairs," he said.

The Governor proposed completion of the Logan airport "with all possible speed" and completion of regional terminals, but discouraged haphazard airfields for local boosting alone. He asked for postwar priority for postwar construction of highways, immediate action for better housing of the mentally ill and for a new veterans' hospital in the west-central part of the state.

Also sworn in yesterday was Lt. Gov. Robert F. Bradford, former district attorney for Middlesex County.

Drawn for Jury Duty

First criminal session, Addison W. Grant, 95 George st.; first civil session, John F. Leahy, 11 Aberdeen road, and Albert W. Held, 32 Cornell st.; second civil session, John E. Hutchings, 106 Melrose st.; and William C. Eastman, 11 Ronald road.

IT'S TIME TO QUIT WISHFUL THINKING . . . It's Time To Face Facts

At the first shock of war three years ago, everybody forgot self in the high resolve to win the war—to be worthy of our fighting men and women. Everybody "pulled together" no matter what the call—small or large.

Today our men are in mortal combat all over the world.

Our resources at home of men and materials are being reduced. This situation is likely to become worse as war needs become greater. The long, hard pull is here. The need for united co-operation; for steady, unrelenting application to the job ahead is greater than ever.

None of us can afford to be thoughtless in the days ahead. Many of the requests for co-operation are small in themselves—large when taken together.

TAKE THE MATTER OF WARTIME "ELEVATED" TRANSPORTATION

Continuing "El" transportation is essential if war workers, Navy and Army personnel are to reach their jobs on time. The "El" must also endeavor to operate the best service possible for you, the Civilian.

Two years ago we asked you to do a simple thing—avoid riding the "El" between 5 and 6 p.m. in order to relieve congestion—to make room for essential riders. We asked companies and certain large groups of riders to "stagger" their hours of work and travel.

YOU SHOWED THAT CO-OPERATION WAS POSSIBLE

In response to the call, many thousands of you re-arranged your plans and the Elevated was able to carry on with your co-operation.

WHAT'S THE STORY TODAY?

Nine thousand more riders are entering the 12 downtown subway stations between 5 and 6 p.m. and are using the "El" during this big rush hour.

We've managed pretty well for three war winters to carry the 60,000 persons who have been using these 12 downtown stations between 5 and 6 p.m. But when rush hour figures get up to 69,000 as they have now, we've got to ask for some more of that co-operation the public gave us at the beginning of this war.

YOU DID THIS BEFORE— PLEASE DO IT AGAIN

At that time, you realized we were having great difficulty getting repair parts, let alone new cars; that we were losing personnel to the Armed Forces; that Elevated transportation was essential to the war effort. All that is still true today—only more so. While the "El" has a few more cars, it's short of operators to run them. In 1944 it was able to hire 300 but lost 500. Today the "El" is hiring all the operators it can get. Meanwhile, rush hour traffic is too heavy. Many more persons now have to depend on "El" transportation; the third year of war has "retired" many more automobiles than in '42 and '43. The period just ahead is the toughest of all the year. Up to now, Old Man Winter has been very lenient with us here in Boston. But in the next three months he may "hit below the belt" and that means extra work on "El" lines.

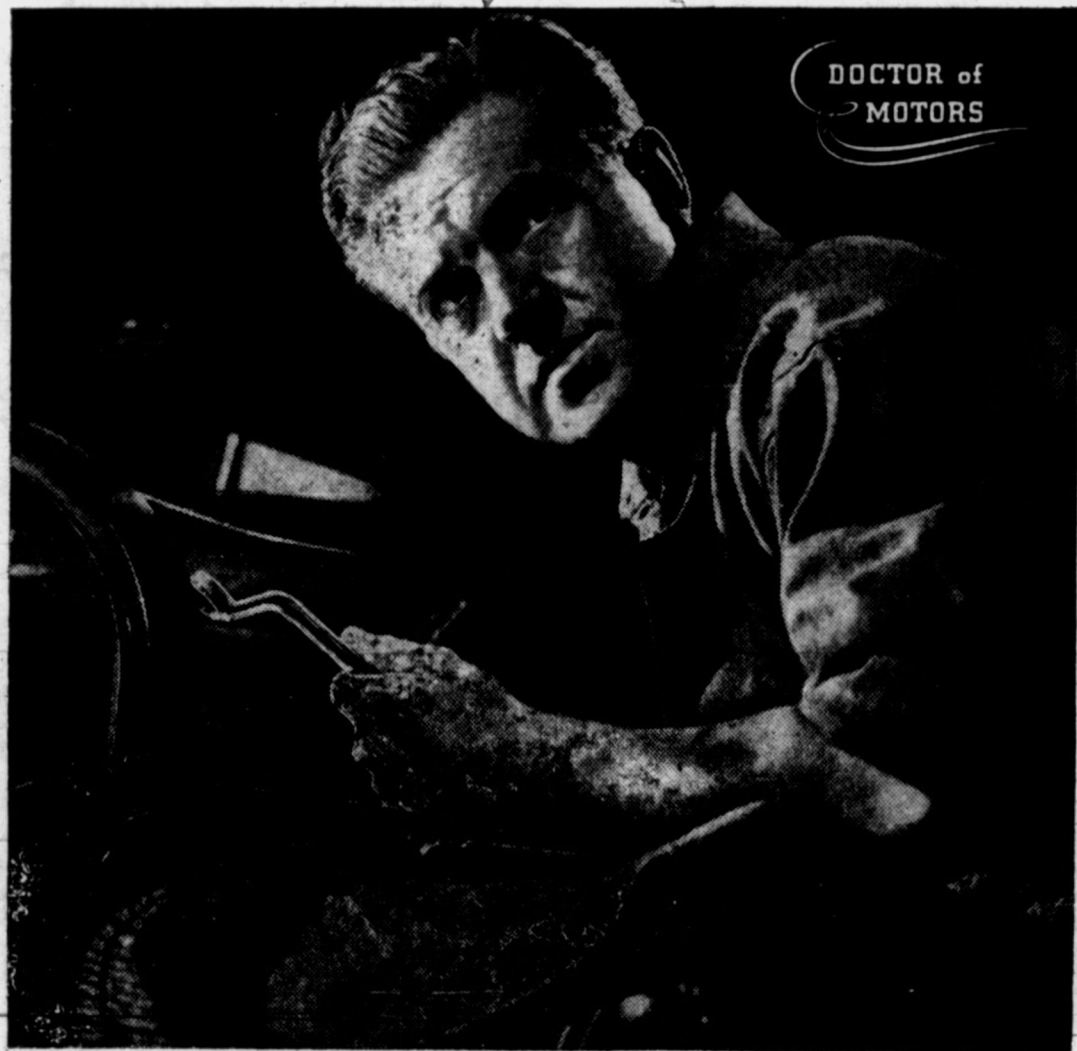

WE ASK YOUR HELP

You can help, as you did before, and as we know you will again. If you're a housewife or haven't a job in Boston, and if you can do so, please go home before the rush hour. If you're in a position to institute the "staggered hour" system of home-going in an office, store, or shop, by all means co-operate. If your business had a staggered hour system which is no longer in effect, please re-establish it.

Until this war is won, until repair parts, materials and equipment can be released for peacetime use, and until an adequate supply of manpower once again is available, remember the "El" must have the co-operation of all in order to perform its essential wartime transportation job.

IF YOU DON'T HAVE TO TRAVEL RUSH HOUR --- DON'T DO IT!

About 40 Arlington Camp Fire Girls sang at the Old Ladies' Home in Cambridge on New Year's Day.

On Christmas eve, about 60 sang carols at Symmes Hospital. Each group brought favors for the patients' trays on Christmas and stuffed animals for the children.

The Guardians' Association met at the Dallen Branch library recently and elected the following officers:

Mrs. Eldred Cheney, chairman; Mrs. R. Willard Hunt, vice chairman; Mrs. George W. Hurley, secretary; and Mrs. William Hellman, treasurer.

Stuffed dolls and animals were brought by all leaders to be sent to the Little Wanderers Home.

A Christmas party was enjoyed at the Old Mill. Mrs. Clarence Blake, past chairman, who is now living in Winchester, was presented a pin.

At a business meeting at the home of their leader, Mrs. George Hurley, the Aowakiya Camp Fire Girls elected the following: Joan Niven, president; Patricia Hancock, vice president; Betty Wilson, secretary; Patricia Creech, treasurer; and Ruth Marie Hurley, scribe.

The Odako Girls, newly organized Junior High group, with Mrs. Bertil Stenmark as guardian, has elected the following: Barbara Stenmark, president; Faye Dougherty, vice president; Eleanor Dasseos, secretary; Lorraine Ryan, treasurer; and Janet Buck, scribe.

Several Horizon and Camp Fire Girls sold tuberculosis seals at the postoffice during the holiday season.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

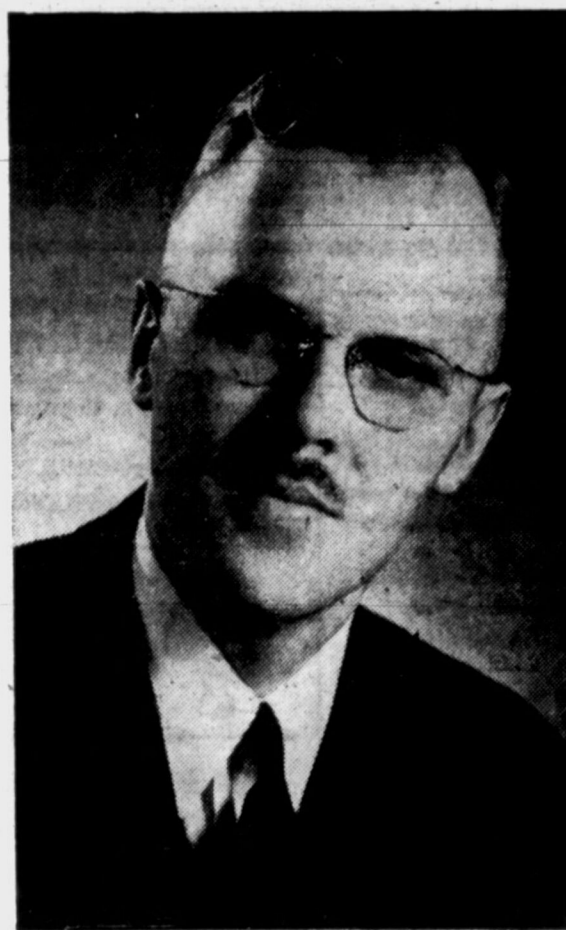

Alan Ladd and Loretta Young co-starred in "And Now Tomorrow," new Paramount film adapted from Rachel Field's best-selling novel, tops the program on the Metropolitan Theatre screen.

In this romantic drama by the author of "All This And Heaven Too," Ladd's characterization is said to be a complete departure from his previous roles. He plays the part of a young doctor, who falls in love with his patient, Loretta Young, who is engaged to another.

"Double Exposure," a Paramount drama, starring Nancy Kelly and Chester Morris, is the associate film. The picture is a happy blend of action, adventure, and romance. It is a Pine-Thomas production.

CATHOLIC WOMEN TO MEET

The first meeting of the Arlington Catholic Women's Club for the year 1945 will be held next Wednesday evening at 8 in the Legion Hall. Mrs. Joseph A. Keefe will preside. Following the meeting, bridge and whist will be enjoyed with Mrs. Henry Lydecker chairman.

Citizens Group

In a discussion of the past, present, and future potentialities of Camp Fire in Arlington, Miss Doris E. V. Foster, executive of the Greater Boston Council, stated that Camp Fire has been organized in Arlington since 1919, with two short lapses because of lack of group leadership. From two groups numbering 29 members organized in December, 1940, the Arlington organization has grown to 17 groups in December, 1944, with a membership of 273. Miss Foster stated that the Camp Fire program is open to girls of every race, nationality, and religion, between the ages of 7 and 18, and that beyond the numbers now being served by Camp Fire and other youth-serving agencies in this community, there are still approximately between 2000 and 2500 girls unserved with programs of this kind in Arlington. Arthur J. Mansfield, member of the Greater Boston Council of Camp Fire Girls, commended the committee and leaders on their work, and stated that no greater need exists today than the intelligent participation of adults in work with youth.

Members of the executive committee are: Mrs. Stanley R. Kingman, chairman; Mrs. M. Norcross Stratton, secretary; Mrs. Clifford S. Brittain, extension chairman; Dr. Paul Sheldon, Archie F. Bullock, Arthur J. Mansfield, Mrs. Lucinda F. Spofford, Dr. L. Curtis Foye, Rev. John Nicol Mark, Mrs. Joseph F. Keefe, Mrs. Raymond Sheppard, Mrs. Joseph Peterson, Rev. R. T. Brown, Mrs. Marcus F. Gray, Mrs. Anna

Callahan, Mrs. Ralph D. Kinney, Miss Amy Winn, Harold M. Estabrook, Mrs. Terry Shuman, Mrs. Margaret O'Neill, Clifford R. Hall, Mrs. Philip Eyrik, Mrs. Herbert J. Cronin, Mrs. Eldred Cheney and Mrs. R. Willard Hunt.

U. S. S. Nelson

had her first action. German planes came in to attack, and the NELSON'S gunners succeeded in driving them away, but only after one enemy bomb had exploded a scant 100 yards off the vessel's starboard quarter.

The NELSON had taken up her station in a picket line in the Bay of Seine, and was lying about seven miles off shore on the night of June 11-12. The weather and sea were moderate, and the moon had not yet risen to lessen the inky blackness of the Normandy night. Commander McGrath had his ship at general quarters, alert, and ready to give any uninvited guests a warm reception.

Suddenly, shortly after midnight, an unidentified force was detected approaching the landing area. The NELSON challenged, and when there was no acknowledgment to the challenge, the destroyer's batteries opened fire at a range of 4000 yards. The approaching enemy paused, then fled at maximum speed in three directions. Where as the first contact had suggested it might be an enemy submarine, it was now apparent that the NELSON was engaging three Nazi E-Boats.

Attacking Boats Sunk. Fifty rounds from the big guns had been fired when a heavy explosion shook the NELSON violently. An E-Boat torpedo had ripped a huge section of the stern away and taken 24 members of the crew with it. The ship heeled from one side to the other and then returned to even keel, practically all of it showered by debris and a column of fuel oil and water raised by the explosion.

The NELSON had been hit, her engines immobilized, some of her men lost, but her mission had been accomplished—huge transports and supply ships which she had so zealously guarded were again safe, and the morning light disclosed two E-Boat wrecks that would never molest an Allied ship again. The enemy had not only failed to penetrate the screen, but the daring German E-Boats remained conspicuously absent for the remainder of the campaign.

Within 13 minutes from the time the torpedo struck, counter measures had been taken and the Area Commander notified that the ship would remain afloat and the guns were ready to resume fire.

Towed To England. There was no panic. All hands attended to their duties as though it were another drill. It was, in fact, so normal that a seaman who had been dispensing coffee to the gun crews proceeded on his rounds and startled the Captain by inquiring five minutes after the explosion, whether he wouldn't like a cup of coffee. It was inconceivable that the NELSON could sink. The thought just was not entertained by any one on board.

Besides the 24 lost in the explosion, seven others suffered broken bones.

Five of the more seriously injured men were transferred to another craft, and about four hours after the torpedoing the NELSON was in tow, arriving in England the following morning.

In a ship-board ceremony shortly before the USS NELSON headed back to duty, the commanding officer, three other officers and two enlisted men were formally recognized for their services in connection with the destroyer's Normandy action. Captain George L. Menocal, USN, Fleet Administrative Officer at Boston Navy Yard, pinned the Silver Star Medal on Commander McGrath after reading the following citation, signed by Admiral Harold R. Stark, USN, Commander of U. S. Naval Forces in Europe.

"For meritorious service in active sustained operations against the enemy in the Bay of Seine, France from 8 June to 12 June 1944, in the Area Screen of the Naval Western Front."

The Area Screen was charged with protecting vessels in Western Task Force Area from German Surface Forces, and submarines and to assist in the protection against aircraft.

"The USS NELSON commanded by Commander (then Lieut. Comdr.) Thomas D. McGrath performed its part of this task meritoriously and effectively in a manner in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States naval service."

Resignations

Will Serve Until Oct. 15. Rev. Mr. Barber announced his resignation, to become effective Oct. 15, on completion of 15 years as minister of the Orthodox Congregational Church, at morning services last Sunday.

At the same time, he disclosed a bequest of $42,380 from Miss Josephine W. Whitaker to the church. Miss Whitaker, who lived at 17 Russell st., was the daughter of Joseph Wood Whitaker, paymaster of the Boston-Lowell Railroad for 25 years and treasurer of the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank from 1889 to 1900. She was a lifelong attendant of the church and active in its women's groups and Sunday school for many years. Miss Whitaker named Rev. Mr. Barber the executor of her will and trustee of the residue of her estate after payment of other bequests. As trustee Mr. Barber has now set up the residuary amount of the estate as a trust fund, the income from which is to go towards the general expenses of the church.

A graduate of Yale University, Mr. Barber came to Arlington from Nashua, N. H., where he had been minister of the Pilgrim Church for 12 years. When he assumed the pastorate here, the church had an indebtedness of nearly $10,000 and invested funds of $1,968. Today, there is no indebtedness remaining and the church has invested funds of more than $51,000. During his pastorate, Mr. Barber has received 501 persons into membership.

He has been active in Town affairs, is president of the Arlington Historical Society, vice-president of the Bay State Historical League and a member of many other societies. Photography and clocks are among his hobbies, and he has served as president of the Clock Club.

Rev. and Mrs. Barber recently purchased a building lot on Moncknock road where they intend to build a home. Mr. Barber plans to do interim work among pastorless churches and a larger amount of lecturing in the future. His travelogues and talks on antiques are well-known to many.

The OPA Says

Start the New Year right . . . Scotch the gougers.

Help Yourself, Help Your Neighbor, Help Your Country.

Insist on paying only ceiling prices for what you buy. It keeps money in your pocket and helps hold prices down. And that helps everybody else.

Ceiling prices were established for your benefit. It's up to you to see that nobody chisels you out of what's coming to you. If you let chiselers get away with anything, you have only yourself to blame. Ceiling prices on food items have been established for the sole purpose of controlling the cost of living. They are important because 40% of every dollar we spend goes for purchasing food. A few cents here, a penny there in overcharges, might not seem important but, added up, these small overcharges can easily up our cost of living 2 to 4%, or even more.

"How can we be certain that we will not be paying above ceiling prices?"

Here's the answer:

1. A wartime regulation requires that all food stores post official community ceiling price lists where customers can see them easily. Is a price ceiling list posted where you buy your food? If not, it's your job to remind your grocer of his failure to comply with the law. All you have to do is to phone your local OPA office.

2. It is extremely important that everyone look for the posted ceiling price list before they start to shop. Don't be afraid to spend a few minutes studying these prices. And do it when the owner or manager and the other customers can see you do it! This puts the manager on notice that you are standing on your legal rights and gives him warning not to try to put anything over on you. It gives courage to timid customers who would hesitate to stand up for their rights if they did not have the feeling that it was the customary thing to do.

We must do a real job on ceiling prices. We must make it our business to see that every violation is reported to the local Price Panel of the OPA immediately.

Do not forget the government must depend upon consumers to help make price ceiling effective.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McGarry of 71 Mystic st., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary to Richard A. Barnard, Sk 3/c, USN, son of Mrs. Mary Daley of 51 Fairfax st., Somerville.

Commissioner Gives Simple Rules on Colds

"Don't risk your health and waste money on cold vaccines and vitamin pills not recommended by your doctor — put your extra money into War Bonds and Stamps."

This was the advice given today by state commissioner of health Vlado A. Getting to Massachusetts citizens who want to keep from catching colds during the present changeable weather.

Dr. Getting issued the following cold weather tips:

Keep in fighting trim the rest of the winter by eating plenty of the seven basic foods daily . . . and eat regularly. (Basic foods include green and yellow vegetables; citrus fruits, tomatoes, raw cabbage and salad greens; potatoes, other vegetables and fruits; milk and milk products; meat, poultry, fish, eggs, dried beans, peas, nuts and peanut butter; bread, flour and cereals; and butter and fortified margarine.)

Keep good hours by sleeping at least eight hours . . . in bed.

Keep your house, office or car aired and heated properly at a constant temperature of about 68 degrees. Sleeping quarters should be even lower . . . but be sure to avoid drafts.

Keep away from anyone suffering with a cold . . . to the point of risking your popularity.

Dress sensibly, seasonably and comfortably. Proper clothing, especially if you're one of those individuals peculiarly sensitive to drafts, can greatly help reduce unnecessary colds.

Keep clean. Maintain good hygiene and grooming by using plenty of soap and water.

And if you do come down with a cold:

Go to bed and stay there. Don't be a false patriot. The wise time to care for a cold is at the beginning—when it can be controlled with the least absenteeism, money and damage to health.

Avoid risking your health and wasting money on cold vaccines and expensive vitamin pills . . . unless specifically advised by your doctor.

Colds spread when you sneeze or cough. Cover them up with a hankie. Most colds might be prevented if cold sufferers showed a little consideration for others—especially in crowds and public conveyances.

If your cold does not become better, call a doctor or visit him during regular office hours. If you must call him to your home, phone him about eight-thirty in the morning so he may prepare his schedule of calls for the day in advance.

Don't forget, pneumonia and sinusitis start from little colds . . . and influenza is often mistaken for a cold.

HIGH WIND CAUSES DAMAGE

Strong winds, accompanying Monday afternoon's heavy rain, damaged several store awnings, blew down store signs and smashed a large pane of glass in the show window of an Arlington Center store.

—Fire Chief Daniel B. Tierney has been reappointed forest warden for the year 1945.

—Laurence A. Wasson, Newland road, a member of the Freshman Class at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston, has resumed his studies, following the Christmas recess.

In The Service

—Pvt. George Maranian of 24 Newland road has been reported wounded in action in France. He is in the infantry division.

—Sgt. Thomas H. Garside, who has been wounded in action, is making normal improvement, according to a letter received by his mother, Mrs. Amy Garside, from the Adjutant General.
